

Holy Mission Eleonore - the Vastest Space and Civilization of the New Millenary

It is common knowledge that life starts with the spirit and continues with all the other elements classified according to order, quality and their function. The phenomenon of life is destined to get interrupted when the spirit, breath and life which cease with the failure of the heart, bring about the death of the brain that corresponds only to the removal of the first comer which is the spirit. The issue is to define the limit of the starting of life, the maxim of durability, the border beyond which the organism interrupts by itself its activity, because it can not exist anymore after the removal of the spirit, which is the first originator and constructor of the organism.

Beyond this phenomenon, the life of human organism can not be other than a tiny fraction of minutes, i.e. it gives way to its last rhythms either as a consequence of inherited factors or the present ones till the latest instance. What makes this Mission unique is that it materializes a brilliant exemplar of cooperation and inter-action between its fundamental principles and their application up to the institutional level harmonizing them to perfection. Thus, it brings a new note and even more original of the Cosmos, after whose investigation, it stunts every mentality, but for the truth's sake it's getting overcome.

All brand new phenomena resemble faithfully to the tradition of the Source they derive from (even though being far away according to the humans). They elevate the world to a new height thanks to the orientation of the Saints who are neither myths nor figures, but a Dynamic Cosmic Energy. The presence of the Saints brings thoughts from the most intelligent ones, and forces from the most audacious ones. These inter-planetary forces should not be wandered about, just as they do not need imagination, because they are closely bound with the practical activity and incite an unseen persistence and so admirable when they grow that the knowledge to come out of the situation created by us or others gets extended. Clarity in this time-momentum reaches that level that it runs towards the highest exactness. Thus, the bearer of this newness becomes the most precious thing in the cradle of Cosmos, and it is the intellectual potential represented by a constellation of Saints, the most prestigious of all times.

A variety of tendencies, not assembled by chance, dominate over you with their presence in the conceiving of problems that you wish to solve out and which accompany it till the appearance of solutions. The unrepeatable atmosphere of the free exchange of ideas and human Wisdom is renewed and runs only through the justice of higher logic which very soon defines the personality and becomes a symbol of the success of sciences' symbioses, philosophy and medicine. In this new appropriate environment, the formation of Balanced Society starts, which potentially has this ability but it lacks progressive experience, it doesn't have tradition for the growth of global population, so that it should be emphasized the balanced understanding of these two fundamental components.

The Holy Books, avoiding the interference of humans on them throughout different times, and accepting the huge potentials that the New Landing of our Mission offers, (which directly influences the Human Balance and acts in an accelerated way), have our attention. The axes of this movement penetrates all the necessary space through the emission of the centre, the Source, and it is converted into a touchable reality where it transplants the matter it receives as an elite expert and the most prestigious till now. For this purpose the Representing Panel was created, which not only will represent the Mission but also will optimize the changing of habits and ways of thinking of people, by means of which the misbalance is reached. In this extraordinary situation people will benefit a special solution which is already legitimated by now and is reaching higher quotas. The New Landing was the first that put emphases on an absolutely new phenomenon, the trinity: the physical body, the psychic and the spirit, as well as it emphasized the instability of the first two when they do not get connected to the third. Thus, the Spirit has not been, as different philosophers have thought, neither the brain nor the heart could be, for the Spirit was quite another thing.

The proclamation over-passed its own epoch enriching the ideas and overcoming the negative effects of the previous activities by means of the full indications of the spiritual body, its activity and especially its connection and cooperation with the Universe. The revealed idea has formed its own personality through the solution of the problem laid down as well as the care towards stable relations and co-operation with the other scientific and philosophic disciplines. Participants have cultivated the spirit of the Spiritual Family which is the highest expression of the collective life because it takes upon itself a lot of duties for all of us. This way of behavior is already becoming a tradition and it is naturally transmitting, without interrupting the frank atmosphere, the meaningful experiences and the intensive intellectual communication. Relationships have become franker and the warm and sincere human care has made the environment more affective towards the daily worries and problems. Life in this institution has started in the dynamic stream. The field that uninterruptedly is toiled is the Inter-Human Balance, which always holds the local hierarchy, and solutions seek to raise it to the same dignifying rank, in order to make human life more comfortable.

The Holy Linkage clearly explains more than ever the existence of an Energetic-Dynamic-Cosmic "potential", which man keeps locked in him bringing about the big change between Linkage and Spirit. This going away has become the reason for non-profiting this Major force, which actively generates for the creation of new balanced solutions together with other micro and macro-cosmic conditions.

Fortunately, these conditions are in themselves "intelligent conditions" because they come from the same Source of Intelligent Quality, or the Memory and Clarity. Deep into them, they are un-destroyable; because they are capable to fit in the conditions of the environment (for their content is more completed) at the same time they possess the execution or the conservation of effects as many times as the appropriate conditions are repeated. If they happen to be in a new environment, then they get back to their real conditions, they realize the execution or self-conservation alongside the continuity of their proper destination.

When the relationship between the cause and the effect is impossible (the case when environment is in its minimum) they use forces of their own and they undo the environment through the Qualities of their potential and the ways they function. The form of the direct action (emission) is called the effect of the Origin, whereas the second (conservation of effects) the Preservation of the Origin which opens new boundless horizons to the present-day society, now has become crystal-clear and easily perceived.

Amongst the moulded ideas, the pure cosmic logic has the lead, it corrects any human misbehavior due to undoing them and it includes directly the Dynamic - Cosmic-Energy, by means of a two-fold signal: it discovers the undoing and it exercises wave frequencies for the re-integration with the Source, God. As a result of this frequency hit, the necessary resistance is gained as well as the previous undoing hits cease. By this way, negative components are eliminated (non useful) and others are coated with an intelligent status, completing the desirable functions alongside the cosmic curve, thus realizing the balance.

Missionary ideas do not testify in other conditions different from the present ones, but acceptable and explainable, without avoiding the traces of highly dense and highly hot situations which come from billions of years ago and needed even at present either for the mass or for the density of the matter of the stars of galaxies. The effects of highly dense situations and those of highly hot do not reveal themselves at the present instruments, because this "mass is missing" together with its concept as well as with the perception of its color. In order to know and measure them we should act with the concepts of daily experience imagination, because the deepness of these situations is not in normal conditions, and we encounter strange contradictions. I think that the theories neither can be accepted nor be contradicted only by means of statements, as it is done for so many things till now, but we must show facts like these we are showing.

Everything in the universe corresponds to the widening and narrowing which depend specifically on the average density of matter and in full accordance with the elements of Universe.

If you wish to know what has happened before we all came to this world, it is better to know that time is given since its actual flow goes only in one direction, the same as universe itself, which only enlarges through reciprocal departure of everything. So, we are not in the initial moment, in the conditions of the Great Creation and our concepts and perceptions correspond to a certain stratum, definitely to this one we belong to. But, since there have existed Beings who have testified for millions of years in succession as well as the way this world came to be with all its laws, then the initiation of the world indispensably indicates that its Creator does exist. This is so, because Universe is not restrained in itself for things its outer organs do, thus physically it performs actions which penetrate into its deepness, which is why we human beings have to abstract from the touchable world when we need to enter in a common action with it. This form brings about an endless number of unifications, it accomplishes continues changes in order to achieve the results of Grater penetration.

It is quite understandable and totally pardonable that common people do not participate in this endlessness of unifications; but even we do not recognize them as the main stars. To clearly understand or to get convinced about this statement, it is indispensable to address the ensured data from the study of their behavior in which the truth of these common processes is verified, a cause of the non-participation of majority. Besides this, we notice in this study not only the dominant hierarchy or the order of the status of a human being's group, but also, amongst other things, the way how the right of priority is established according to ability and skill for everyone. "The first cause, the missing linkage with the inter - stars clouds" which are charged with high energy and assist in the harmony of physical and psychic growth.

The participation in this interference and the alternation with meditation increase the intensive electrical phases of brain, thus interrupting other phases of slowed-down activities because of the weakness of its work or the lack of cosmic energy from the spiritual body.

The reception of stars energy is made possible even by the process of the radiation of the Earth with the presence of centers of the same kind that man has in his level of balance.

This situation assists the mechanism of genes functioning because there exists tight relationship between the structures of energetic-dynamic-cosmic cells. And the most important thing of the phenomenon is the increase of the elementary ingredients of protons and neutrons (Quark concept) which enables man to command either the putting into work by he himself of the organization of a periodical function as well as integratable in the cosmic centers, and in his favor. This possibility is favored by the electrical-magnetic interaction of all the participating forces in this phenomenon, regardless of the place that the force and its stage occupy. All of them that suffer from the archaic form of in-conscience which are revealed by the delimiting of the sounds and scary images should be treated by means of Dynamic-Cosmic therapies.

If our children are going to be treated from the very first years of their lives, they can not be harmed in a sensitive and deep way in their initial development, thus we not only preserve the symmetry of the beginning but also we prevent it from damaging.

The existence of the symmetric vitality of the human being is accompanied by the feature of personality of the same kind which corresponds to a good health; others have chosen insomnia, closing in themselves, depression accompanied by nervousness.

The main cause of this state is the increase of the electrical activity of the brain's crust because it neither spreads nor concentrates in an immune way as a result of the symmetry of the physical body with the damaged physiology of the individual. At the state of being asleep, he develops approximately the same mental activity with that of being awake. Peace, harmony and completeness which the world derives from, existence and life in its eternity within this category of people are all deeply affected. Isn't it a good reason that we should always participate in the Universe Shaking so that the pain, depression and lack, all will melt because of the Power and Holiness of the True Love that this process of Universe offers?! The resonance which directs the world is Reason, Cosmos, Universe and Life; it is Goodness spread all over the world and times. The Holy, the Angels get it from the Great Source and transmit it to man. The one that comes from Above is skill and thinking, which make us understand and feel, which enlightens from himself that the thinking of God be realized. The Saint sends the waves of Light to us so that he can make us happy as soon as best and close to God we could be.

From himself, he sends the high Thinking so that we wake up our conscience and sing the Holy Hymn from the Law of Life towards the Universal Balance.

Oh, God and Saints of Eternity, oh, Love of endless Love, that the cause of Creation itself you are, take us by your side! My Protector of Skies, nothing can stop the Love I have for You, by means of Law and Power it penetrates everything. "When the World had wise men, it respected the state of being a man and applied the preservation of dignity, embalming, but when the world was governed by mediocre as an ugliness of man, they invented burying".
